SHABBOS OF CHIZUK & COMMUNITY MELAVA MALKA WITH RABBI LEIBEL ROCKOVE

The yeshiva had the zechus to host Rabbi Leibel Rockove, Rav of Khal Nachlas Avos-EJC in Queens and father of our esteemed rebbe, Rabbi Gershon Rockove, for several days of Torah and chizuk.

Rabbi Rockove began his visit with a vaad for the bais medrash on Thursday night. On Friday, he davened shacharis with the yeshiva and spoke to the talmidim of the mesivta, followed by visits to a number of the shiurim, where he engaged the talmidim in learning. That afternoon, he also addressed the talmidos of Esther Miller Bais Yaakov.

Throughout Shabbos, the talmidim had the opportunity to benefit from Rabbi Rockove's hadracha and divrei chizuk. After the Friday night seudah, he fielded questions from the bochurim, and on Shabbos day he inspired the talmidim with an impactful shmuess. The visit culminated in a community melava malka on Motzei Shabbos, where Rabbi Rockove spoke to an overflow crowd on "What Hashem's Amazing Creation Can Teach Us About Ourselves." Following the divrei chizuk, members of the community enjoyed a delicious milchig seudah and were joined by the talmidim for a warm kumzits, bringing the Shabbos to a close with an atmosphere of achdus.

WELCOME to the TEAM

MTI welcomed alumnus Rabbi Avrohom Lieberman back to the yeshiva as Dorm Mashgiach. Rabbi Lieberman and his family recently moved from New York into a home adjacent to the yeshiva, allowing him to provide consistent supervision and be readily available to the bochurim.

In his role, Rabbi Lieberman oversees the dorm counselors and brings a positive energy and simchas hachaim to the dorm environment. He provides guidance as students adjust to living away from home, while developing a personal kesher with the talmidim. His responsibilities also include coordinating the yeshiva's weekly elective program and arranging trips and activities during non-class time.

"As I walk through the halls of the yeshiva, I'm reminded of the tremendous growth I experienced here as a talmid," says Rabbi Lieberman. "It's exciting to now be back here with my wife and children, and truly humbling to have the opportunity to work alongside my own rebbeim as we guide the next generation of bnei Torah and help them grow into the best people they can be."

We wish Rabbi Lieberman and his family much hatzlachah in his new role.

MENAHALIM

More than forty menahalim from across the country gathered at the yeshiva for a two-day Menahalim Network Summit. The participants were joined by HaRav Dovid Harris, shlita, and HaRav Akiva Grunblatt, shlita, roshei yeshiva of Yeshiva Chofetz Chaim in Queens, who offered hadracha and chizuk and addressed questions facing today's mechanchim.

Through roundtable discussions, the menahalim shared challenges, ideas, and practical approaches to chinuch, with sessions addressing both common concerns and the needs of elementary and high schools. Conversations continued between sessions, providing further opportunities to learn from one another's experience and strengthen connections. The gathering brought together mechanchim united by a shared mesorah and a commitment to the growth of their talmidim and mosdos.
